

CURTAIN UP

---

The Perfect 'Blendship' Bellini

Peaches and fizz – always good friends, now the perfect 'blendship'.
(Anything Goes)

ACT 1

---

Lady Bracknell Triangles

Cucumber and cream cheese sandwiches on brown bread.
Not to be eaten until Aunt Augusta arrives.
(The Importance of Being Earnest)

The Guvnor Sandwich

As offered up in One Man, Two Guv'nors: a hummus sandwich – but this one with added French beans and roasted red pepper, on wholemeal bread.

Thing 1 and Thing 2

There are two things in these sandwiches: green eggs and ham, of course.
Don't panic, it's just a dash of watercress mayonnaise.
(The Cat in the Hat)

Mrs Lovett's Pie

A deliciously crumbly pork and onion pie – more wholesome than Sweeney Todd's.

INTERVAL

---

Interval ice cream

Take a refreshing break from the action, with a choice of vanilla, strawberry or honeycomb ice cream.
Wait for the twist.

ACT 2

---

A Marble Mouthful

Eliza Doolittle had to speak around a mouthful of marbles.
Our marble cake is much easier to chew and far more enjoyable.
(My Fair Lady)

A Taste of Honey Layer Cake

A sweet treat made with honey from our very own beehives on the theatre roof.

NT AND SCONES

---

An unmissable classic: baby scones with rich clotted cream and home-made preserves.

All served with a selection of organic Birchall teas, freshly ground Mozzo coffee and fruit/herbal infusions.

FRIDAY AND SUNDAY TEA & TOUR

---

For a truly theatrical experience, enjoy a peek behind the scenes by adding a backstage tour before your lavish afternoon tea, served in our stunning new restaurant, House at the National Theatre.

Tea £26.50
Tea and tour £35

A discretionary gratuity of 12.5% will be added to your bill